So Gabriel went into camp in a French officer-a fortune-hunter-grand forest of ancient oaks and had once taken advantage of the beeches, where the tired horses young lady, when he had her in his munched their oats and the cuiras- power, and hat forced her to marry

Late that evening Casse Tete annul the marriage and punish this

Let them get ready to heat him, and we'll finish him off neatly."

siers polished up their weapons.

CHAPTER XXIX.

GOSSIP.

rest of the heavy cavalry of the Im-

He was a gay young fellow, full of fun and frolic, fond of pleasure, adoring Paris, with sentimental leaning toward the old nobility, but emperor was carrying forward the glory of France.

He had a special admiration for am told that he carries the manners of the camp into court Dela-

Delaroche retorted indignantly:

Gabriel began to take an interest

"Much in Paris! I should say s, and my duties took me to the

"I should say I did; and, as I

"A Prussian? Then there was-

"I heard there was some idea of said. I lost my heart to all, one after palace every day."

"Then you saw all the

Why, his highness, the Grand ble knight of romance."

French territory.

SPRING AND SUMMER PRINTS, DOMESTICS, JEANS, COTTONADES, LAWNS, Etc., Etc., and Men's and Boys' CLOTHING Of All Grades, At Low Prices. S. SHYER.

DRUGS!

DRUGS!

B. STEWART,

S. SHYER.

Franklin Street

(Stand formerly occupied by McCauley & Co.) Has on hand a complete stock of Drugs, Medicines and Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, Sponges, Brushes, Chamois Skins, Perfumery, Fine Soaps, &c.

Special attention will be given to the Compounding of Medicines, and a careful and competent Prescriptionist will be in attendance at all hours. S. B. STEWART. March 18, 1882-tf

The Clarksville Wagon Co. Wareh

Reduces its Prices.

We have on hand a large stock of superior Wagons of all the various sizes, and made of the very best materials, which we now offer at a reduction of $10.00 to $15 00 per Wagon, according to size, below our previous prices. The TIMBER used in our Wagons has been seasoning under our sheds from 3 to 5 years and is of the very best.

Every Wagon Warranted.

All who need Wagons would do well to see and price our stock before buying.

JOS. ELLIOTT, Manager.

FOST!

We have placed on our

BARGAIN

Which will be sold at

COST OR LESS! GOOD GOODS, BUT ODDS And ENDS

Consisting of

Men's, Boys' & Youths' High & Low Shoes, Men's, Boys' & Youth's Stiff & Straw Hats, Ladies', Misses' & Children's Low Shoes & Slippers, Ladies' and Children's High Shoes, Boys' and Youths' High Shoes.

We are making room for the Largest and Best Selected Stock of Boots, Shoes, Hats, &c., ever brought to Clarks-Just received another lot of the LIGHT RUNNING DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINES.

Respectfully, Call and see them.

BOWLING & WILLSON.

Sewanee Planing Mill

G. B. WILSON & CO.,

SASH, DOORS, BLINDS,

And Dealers in

Builders' Material of Every Description.

PRICES AS LOW AS THE LOWEST.

Cor. Spring and Commerce Sts - Clarksville Temp

Magistrates' Blanks for Sale at this office.

MONEY SAVED IS MONEY MADE.

Boots, Shoes, Hats, Trunks

Gents' Furnishing Goods

Ladies' and Misses' Kid Button Boots. Ladies' and Misses' Pebble Button Boots. Ladies' and Misses' Kid Empress Tie. Ladies' and Misses' Pebble Empress Tie.

SLIPPERS.

THE LANGTRY TIE

PLAIN And BRAIDED OPERAS, NEW PORT TIES, BUTTON NEW PORT. OLD LADIES' SHOES, Which we guarantee to give

SOLID COMFORT crowded tenement houses, and large A full line of GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS. Agency for

THE RED STAR SHIRT The best ever offered in Clarksville for $1.00. A full line of GENTS' NIGHT SHIRTS.

M. A. STRATTON, Corner 1st and Franklin Sts.

I handle nothing but Good Goods, and make everything come up to what it is repre-ented to be. Respectfully,

GRANGE

CLARKSVILLE, TENN..

Commission Merchants

For the Inspection and Sale of LEAF TOBACCO. T. HERNDON Supt'. and Salesman.

Cash advanced on Tobacco in store, or in the hands of respon- ruling population of Mexico is white colonel of the Black Death's sible farmers and dealers. All Tobacco insured while in store at American and the principal lan- Heads. the expense of owner, except where there is no advance, and then guage is English, then annexation

W. F. TAYLOR, Todd Co., Ky., Pres. T. M. ATKINS, Montgomery Co., Tenn., J. S. FLOWERS, Logan Co., Ky. GEO, W. JESSUP, Todd Co., Ky. T. F. NORTHINGTON, Montgomery Co A. H. CARDEN, Crittenden Co., Ky. Jan. 6, 1883-8m

J. C. KENDRICK.

Kendrick, Pettus & Co., Tobacco Salesmen,

General Commission Merchants. CENTRAL WAREHOUSE.

Cor. Main and Front Streets. - Clarksville. Tenn.

Just Below the New Tobacco Exchange.

All Tobacco in our warehouse in Clarksville, on which advances have been made, will be insured at owners' expense until sold; and all Tobacco received by us at our warehouse in Clarksville, upon which there is no advance, will be insured at owners' expense, unless we have written instructions not to insure; and after being sold, all Tobacco will be held years the death-rate in England

FOX&SMITH,

Clarksville, Tenn.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

HARDWARE

IRON, GUNS, and Agricultural Implements.

The Finest Stock of Axes in the City. Oliver Chilled Plows, Oliver Chilled Sulky Plows, Syracuse Chilled Plows, Clarksville Cast and Steel Plows, Studebaker and Humboldt Wagons, Chicago Galvanized Fence Wire.

Cooking and Heating Stoves. Chimney Flues,

Prompt attention to all orders for ROOFING, GUTTERING, freak of this young gentleman calls to mind a stanza written to ridicule a young Briton who was in about And Plumbing.

BLANK BOOKS

Of Every Description

Made to Order at this Office.

Celebrating the glorious fourth with picuic excursions seems to sprinkler appears in the Burlington have generally superceded the old Hawkeye: plan of fire works and processions.

The present panic about trade dollars is said to have been caused by speculators who wish to depreciate those coins and buy them in, anticipating that the government will

The extent of advertising that is lone in this country can be more fully comprehended when it is known that a Philadelphia soap manufactory will spend $20,000 with one paper, the Boston Globe, in Joe Blackburn thinks Hoadly and Cleveland will make a good Deniocratic team for 1884. If Hoadly will revolutionize things in Ohio as Cleveland did in New York, there can be no denying the excellence of AUTHOR OF "THE PHANTOM KNIGHTS, such a ticket.

The recent hot weather has great ly increased the death rate in New York and other large cities of the North. The deaths are mostly among infants and children in numbers of sun strokes are reported.

The rumor that a duel was fought near New York by Knox of the Texas Siftings and a bog Irishman named Sheehan, turned out to be a hoax. Knox probably got up the joke to advertise his paper. It has advertised him in a way he probably didn't anticipate.

Our contemporary, the Chronicle, is in favor of changing the Lord's prayer, so as to read: "Our fathers, who are on Poverty row."- above, unless it couches an insinuation that we fail to eatch; but certainly the cavalier like editors of his face. the Democrat would not indulge in covert flings. Our contemporary will please express openly what it means by this sentence.

roads that are being constructed cones hehind him to his aid, there, indicate that a lively foreign change the character of its populawon't the slothful Mexican succumb | young colonel at the field of Auster-Juato and Tamaulipas as he did in Texas and California? When the tales from the veterans about the

That venerable Nestor of the Ten-Athens Post, has crowned his ripe experience and mature years with the well deserved reputation of being a good writer and an able editor. He has been connected with Tensmart as some young men we know who have only a few week's experience in journalism. This is what "The Union City Anchor ventures the opinion that not one "country thing about the tariff. For one, we curtain to the soft impeachment. But, as far as our reading extends, and it is pretty general, the average city ed. is in the same blissful con-

Nothing will so thoroughly clinch an argument as figures. Some English cranks were disposed to deny the efficacy of vaccination; but Parliament Sir Lyon Playfair put years the death-rate in England per 1,000,000 to 600 per 1,000,000. In alone, a mob of Prussian horsemen 1841 the government began to give galloping madly away down the pulsory, and in 1871 the mortality had fallen again to 223 per 1,000,000. In the years 1871 73, when true compulsion was in force, only 156 per 1,000,000 was the mortality rate. Scotland and Ireland show a decline greater degree, for in Scotland, 1882, the rate was only 6 per become aware of the existence of Allen was all the time under the very distinguished gentleman. He thought that since Thurman pere Union, Thurman fils must have ed the old lady. "Well, really, some share of the glory. So when colonel, that is a most singular ques ther in an important political matter he thought the cause of the differance ought to be explained to the room. public and he wrote a little card stating why he couldn't support stating why he couldn't support Judge Hoadley for Governor of atraid of its being discovered, but Ohio. Young Allen was doubtless he was only thinking of Inez in that Stone and Iron Pipe, surprised at the laugh his little card "You s produced, for he didn't mean it to question of her, madame," he said. forward. be funny at all. The conceited "If you know anything, you know The suited to the said of the said. The said of the said of the said. freak of this young gentleman calls that the lady is my wife. What is ten miles on his road back to the morning all the time he to mind a stanza written to ridicule is she doing in a carriage with the army; but the full moon allowed him to see the way, and he traveled "I High descent is a very excellent card in its way, so far as it can be used for self gratulation, but it don't count for much in the game of life; in fact, personal worth is about the only trump in the deck when that important play is to be made. Sons the face "

He was in fighness, but that is all, I assure you."

"He was in the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw my wife put her head out of the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw my wife put her head out of the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw my wife put her head out of the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw my wife put her head out of the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw more graciously than he had done on a former occasion, when Gabriel was a simple captain, unpopular in his regiment, and interfering, as the haughty "Beau Sabreur" had thought, with other people's busimated."

The marshal received him much more graciously than he had done on a former occasion, when Gabriel was a simple captain, unpopular in his regiment, and interfering, as the haughty "Beau Sabreur" had thought, with other people's busimated."

"He was in the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw my whim through a glass from the top of the French army.

"He was in the carriage not half an hour ago," said Gabriel. "I saw more graciously than he had done on a former occasion, when Gabriel was a simple captain, unpopular in his regiment, and interfering, as the haughty "Beau Sabreur" had thought, with other people's busimated in the cavalry of the French army.

"I'll show him !''ll show him!'' the muttered, "I'll show him!'' he muttered, "I'll show him!' important play is to be made. Sons the face" character of their respective ances-the carriage.

They had their effect.

THE following "ode" to the street

Sprinkle, sprinkle, water cart, How I wonder what thou art; Never can I find you nigh, When the dust is deep and dry. When the clouded sun is set. And the streets with rain are wet, Then you wing your little flight, Sprinkle, sprinkle, left and right.

When the crossings, Sunday clean, Full of well dressod folks are seen, Men, amid their shieks and oaths, How you sprinkle all their clothes Rattling down the thirsty street, How you soak my hands and feet Some, day when this deed is done,

THE

I will draw my rusty gun, Then we will wonder where thou art, Buckshot sprinkled water cart.

BY CAPT. FRED. WHITTAKER

"RED RUDIGER." "NEMO, KING OF TRAMPS," "THE IRISH CAP-TAIN." ETC.: ETC. lin, if you wish."

CHAPTER XXVII.

A DISCOVERY.

The unhappy young husband dropped the glass he was holding to the earth with a low cry as he made this discovery and trembled all over Paris at once," said Gabriel

What then was it now that caused him to graw his lip till it oled as he looked down? It was the insulting words of the prince at Berlin: "You have saved me from marry-is own wife, in the same carriage the whole colloquy, interposed ner-It was lucky for Gabriel that he was alone then, for, had others been Paris? The roads are full of the present, they would have seen him enemy, all the way to Cassel." break bown.

But after the first spasm of jealous rage had passed over he lifted his head, and a ghastly smile lighted up el's reply. He heard his men coming. The dull clank, clank, clank, of scabbard on stirrup as they came, was the sweetest of music to his

There lay his foeman, not half mile below him, his flank in full The rapid development that the view, while the terrible Death's an; but when the campaign is over, her majesty. Such angelic beauty, her majesty. Such angelic beauty, such perfect grace! I declare to immigration, mostly from the Uni- back. "Not a loud order," he said hur- de Real." ted States, will pour into that coun-try to so great an extent as to almost "Spread out in two lines. Do every; pride and anger seemed to be strug-pride and anger seemed to be strug-

The veterans needed no second tion. When that is the case, why bidding. They remembered their in Paris, and then you may be sorry Duke of Berg, was Governor of Parlitz, and since that time the ranks had been filled up with new men who had heard the most marvelous

They were prouder of him now than they had been of Lenoir Sen-

"He can't help his eyes and hair," gave him them. But he has dona all he could to be worthy of the the wood, she sunk into a corner, only a cursed Prussian. Death's Heads. He has taken the murmuring: name of Lenoir, and he is a cuirassier to the core."

So the grim heroes of Austerlitz spread out silently to either flank, nd when they emerged from the woods in line, and went sweeping down on the Prussians not a sound was uttered.

They had actually got nearly a hundred yards out of the woods before they were fully noticed below and then came a wild scene of confusion as the Prussian officers shrieked out orders to their men and began to wheel their squadrons to form line in the new direction. Then Gabriel Lenoir waved his sword, pointed to the confused mass of plunging horsemen, and "After me, Death's Heads!" A deep-toned roar of triumph came from under those black mustaches, the sable chargers quickened their trot to a slashing pace, and the whole line, without a swerve or break in its magnificent order.

swept down on the Prussians and drove them in headlong rout from As for Gabriel Lenoir, he had ridden straight for where he had seen the Prince of Potsdam; but in the confusion he missed him, and, when he at last came to the entrance of thousand strong, with a handful of the lane, there stood the carriage men. Had he ventured such an galloping madly away nown the field lane, others scattered over the field lane, others scattered over the field lane, others scattered over the field lane. But these Prussians, he noticed,

He dashed up to the carriage and houted out to the terrified driver: "Who is in this carriage?" "Nobody, so please your highness, out two tadies.

He was off his horse in a moment, and, at the carriage window, was metby the wrinkled face of Madame ing that the whole French army mistress of the robes, and had a la Marquise de Saint Jean, who was coming down on them. "Why, it is Colonel Lenoir himself. Oh how happy I am to see you!"

"Who is in that carriage with demanded Gabriel, not noticing her politeness. "In the carriage? Why of course you must know Mademoiselle de Real. You remember her colonel?" "What is she doing here?" pursued Gabriel, as sternly as before." His heart was growing more but-ter than ever as he saw Inez herself did not look out to see him. "What is she doing here?" titter-tion. I know it is war time; but by what right do you ask such a question? We are ladies, sir, not used to the manners of the barrack-

His hair is straight but his whiskers curl, His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His hair is straight but his whiskers curl, His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His hair is straight but his whiskers curl, His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

His Lordship's forehead is far from wide, But there's plenty of room for brains inside."

The young cuirasser ground his teeth as he thought of the prospect of a fight.

The work is a very excellent of all the cavalry of the French army.

The market Levol Response is a person than Market But to no less a person than Market But t

A pale, beautiful face made its ap- day or two, colonel," he said. "It complained of her never giving me pearance, and two mournful dark is time the infantry did something a chance to speak to the young lady; eves looked out at him, while their now. We have found the enemy, that there was an old attachment owner said sadly : "Oh, monsieur, have I deserved this? I came in search of you."

CHAPTERIXXVIII. JEALOUSY.

But Gabriel ; was too angry and jealous to listen to the voice of his heart plading powerfully for Inez He had seen her in the same carriage with a man she had once professed to hate, and from whom he had saved her. She was accompanied by the Several more days followed of Marquise de Saint Jean, of whom apparently aimless marching and the old Princess of Potsdam had countermarching in the deliles of said significantly: "She is one of the forest of Thuringia, during us," and on whom she had express- which no one in the French army, ed her reliance to bring Inez "to outside the chiefs, knew what was her senses"-that is to marry the going on; and on the 13th of Octoprince. His eyes met those of ber, 1806, the Death's Head's Cai-Inez coldly, and he said, in a sareas- rassiers found themselves, with the "You came in search of me, you perial Guard, marching for Jena in

say. It was a strange road you the midst of hundreds of conflicting took, through the Prussian lines. It It was on this day that Gabriel s plain, madame, that you regret the romance of the village church, Lenoir, while on the march, fell inand prefer the luxury of a palace to to conversation with a staff officer, the quarters of a simple colonel. Be who brought him an order, and it so. You are free to depart to Ber- whom he had known while at Berlin, a year before, the said officer Inez burst into tears. She seemed | having come there with dispatches, to be shocked, angry, ashamed, and burst out: "How can you be so cruel?

"Then madame, in the name of onor, I demand that you return to Paris at once," said Gabriel sternly. "Is this a place for a lady, in the enthusiastic in praise of the way the He had seen Inez before in the midst of the armies in campaign? power of that man, and had had no Return at once," anxiety, I can assure you." She sunk back in the carriage, And yet here was Inez de Real, looking pale and anxious during > vously: "I will send an escort with you, and you shall go through our lines,

Then he called up Casse Tete and | roche." gave him directions to accompany the carriage on the road to Wurtz-burg and not to leave it till it had crossed the French frontier.

"You are misinformed. It is true I am one of the old kind, but I must admit that never, even at the crossed the French frontier.

"After that," he said pointedly to court of Louis the Martyr, have I Inez, "I do not claim to control seen such perfect breeding as at the your movements as a Frenchwom- Tuileries under our emperor. Ah. dergoing and the numerous rail- at a trot over the soft carpet of pine the honor of waiting on her majesty such perfect grace! I declare to roads that are being constructed cones hehind him to his aid. He turned his horse and galloped will grant me an audience, to ask dozen times over to each of them after the health of -Mademoiselle individually."

> gling with some other feeling, and "Very well, monsieur. You may not find the lady of whom you speak for your words.' "So be it," he said haughtily. Then he remounted his horse and sat in the midst of a field, while the ladies pretty frequently?" carriage moved off on the back road, and while his captains were re-arranging the disordered squadrons, another. But they only laughed at He did not know that Inez was me. A poor count, with nothing watching him through the window but an old name and his sword, they would say. "The good God as long as the carriage remained in does not attract them. It takes sight, and that, when it turned into millionaire or a prince, even if he's

> "Oh, if he only knew!" But he was too full of bitterjealous anger to think otherwise of Inez dam. They were all wild over him, but as faithless to him; and his and I swear I never could see anywhole soul seemed now absorbed in thing in the fellow." one desire, to find and kill the Prince his marrying a French lady," ob

anattack

As soon as his men had been served the young colonel, with afgathered up again, he detatched a fected carelessness. "Oh, you mean Mademoiselle de squadaon at a trot after the fleeing Yes, I heard about that, but enemy, hoping to find them rallied somewhere, and followed with the I don't believe a word of it. Look out, colonel, we're running on the whole regiment, not regarding the danger he ran, so long as he came heels of the Third. We had better last twenty years, and so it seems halt and let the column open up. up with his enemy and met him Gabriel slackened the pace of his man to man. But, though they pushed on for questions, and continued: a halt, while the fragments of weapons and accouterments that strewed 'You said you did not believe it. the road showed that the enemy very good authority that they were were very much demoralized by their surprise; and it was late in to make a match." "I don't believe it," the afternoon when he at last came Delaroche, obstinately. "Any one could see that she hated the Prusin full view of them at Eisenach. And then what a sight he saw!

sian. I did hear a story-but never Instead of a single regiment of mind that. I don't want to repeat cuirassiers, as he expected, there court gossip. And after all, it only was a large force of infantry, cavalcame from that old St. Jean,' alry and artillery, drawn up in line of battle, and apparently awaiting Gabriel turned cold and hot as h As gently as he could, without rous-He had run right into the presence of the first Prussian, forty ing his companion's suspicions, he tried to lead the conversation exploit with the Austrians, they "Old St. Jean? You mean the would nave cut him off to a certainmarquise, I suppose, "Yes, I do. She's an old cat. ought to know her, for she's a great seemed like wooden soldiers in their stiffness and immobility; and when "And she spreads scandalous stories, I suppose, about all the ladies?"

"No, no, not quite so bad. Give he sent all his men out to the right and left, behind the shelter of a hill, the devil his due, Old St. Jean is a and caused them to make their apregular old match-maker and I bepearance suddenly in a skirmish lieve had set her mind on making ine three miles long, the Prussian guns opened a furious cannonade on | that poor girl marry the Prussian.

the woods and fields in front, think- You know she held the office of walking blindly into the trap prepared for them by the genius of the o induce them to advance toward while the French army really ad-horses. "We shall do nothing more for a

This trap was nothing less

Emperor of the French.

village of Jena.

great deal of control over the No damage was done to anything maids of honor." "Yes, and what of it?" but the trees and banks, and as soon "Well, you know she could do a as our hero had accomplished his great deal in excusing them from purpose, to impress the enemy duty or putting them on at differwith a false belief, he withdrew his ent times, to suit her own purposes." "I don't understand-"I mean-confound it, Lenoirthe glass, a courier dashing wildly she could throw them into the way on the road to Weimar, to carry the news of the supposed French at- of any lover she fancied, easily rough. It she wanted to encourage a man, she could give him a Then he collected his men and hint as to who would wait on the rode back at a rapid pace toward the place he had left the day before, empress at such a time, and tell him to be there." satisfied that the Prussians were

"Into constant communication ought to know it, because I was the French frontier at Coblenz and and whenever I tried to get a chance leave open the roads to Berlin, to speak to her, there was that confounded Prussian at her elbow, and and their capital, at or about the have tried picking a quarrel with him, but, confound it, he was an And Gabriel Lenoir, with the embassador, and sacred on that ac- every trades union in the country Death's Head Cuirassiers, was part count. And besides, they say the promptly instruct its members to "You ask by what right I ask a of the bait set to draw the Prussians fellow fences confoundly well. He refuse hereafter the trade dollar as was taking lessons from St. George | they would refuse to submit to any The sun set before he had gone and the Mameluke Roustan every other wrong inflicted on them. Let him to see the way, and he traveled a young Briton who was in about the same fix as Allen, Jr. This is the way it runs:

"And she thus threw this prince-"

"Mi Lord Tomnoddy is the son of an earl, His hair is straight but his whiskers curl, His hair is straight but his whiskers curl, and Gabriel Lenoir was able to re
"Mi Control Tolsdain."

"Oh, no, not with the Prince of Potsdain."

"In the early morning they met that he saw a reason for the prince's show of courage when they met at Berlin. He fancied doubtless that he could beat Lenoir now, after his show of courage when they met at the Frince of Potsdain."

"In the early morning they met the fancied doubtless that he could beat Lenoir now, after his show of courage when they met at the Frince of Potsdain."

"In the early morning they met the fancied doubtless that he could beat Lenoir now, after his bear and Gabriel Lenoir now, after his show of courage when they met at the fancied doubtless that he could beat Lenoir now, after his bear and the could beat Lenoir now, after his bear and the could beat Lenoir now, after his bear and the could beat Lenoir now, after his bear and the could beat Lenoir now, after his bear an marquise made her story about ?"

"Not to a living soul."

rode in, on a horse nearly broken officer, but that the prince had down from rapid work, and report-ed that he had left madame on his own hand in a duel, and that it was understood between mademoiselle and the Prussian, that, as soon as the prince had killed this Frenchman, he was to marry the "And did the marquise say that the lady consented to this scheme. "Certainly. She said that the poor girl hated her legal husband, and longed to be rid of him," "And what said you to all of this?" asked the young cuirassier in a low tone. "I told her that I didn't believe that a Frenchwoman would want between mademolselle and the prince, but that some beggarly him. That the emperor wished to to marry the murderer of her husband, and that if ever I met him, I would tell him of this fine plot and recommend him to keep in his hand, with the foils." Gabriel uttered a harsh laugh, "A good answer, Delaroche, By all the gods, there are some honest men left, even in our court. And you think that this poor husband was not altogether to blame; that

The young man's name was Count Delaroche, and he belonged to an old royalist family. he has some rights that even the emperor is bound to respect.' My faith, why not? But that is all past and gone now. We are at war, thank heaven, with these Prussians at last and if I get a chance at that prince, I'll try whether a pistol-shot on the field won't spoil his fencing. I don't know the husband: but it is enough for me that he is "I am ready, monsieur," she answered, her face flushing deeply and resentfully. "You shall not have cause to reproach me again for my "Ah," he said to Gabriel, as they "But this ready for me that he is french, and the other a Prussian. I am for my own country, all the time." I am for my own country, all the

"But this man, you say, forced rode along, "it is all very well for you Red Republicans to say there an unwilling girl to marry him and is nothing in the old blood and the deserves no pity," said Gabriel raold traditions; but see what they ther bitterly.

"As for that I have only my have made of him. He is a veritaaunt's word, and she may have "And yet only the son of an innwanted to frighten me off. It may keeper," observed Gabriel; tor he felt in that bitter humor when he poor husband. Ah, I see they are loved to contradict every one in his massing for a halt. Good-by, Lenoir. own heart-soreness as to Inez. "I I'm wanted. TO BE CONTINUED.

For Revenue Only. This, says the American Register was the unwise and fatal plank in the Democratic platform of 1880, It is not a debatable point, but a certainty, that this most indiscreet expression defeated the Democratic mrty in the last Presidential election. And it seems that short-sightperiment over again. It is very clear and certain that if tried again it will bring about the same result. It is not a thoughtful expression, showing a profound comprehension of the subject, but peculiarly unforo misrepresent the Democratic pury on the subject. In the latter part ing been defeated in his favorite canand not feeling any especial interest and defeated this time by an adverb."-"Not certain yet, tain." That word "only" has en-"Yes, a Prussian prince of blooda fellow called the Prince of Potsshowed him to be right. General Grant never showed more sugacity than when he said that the Reput horse, which he had allowed to the Democracy in the next presidenthree hours they found no trace of press on in the excitement of his tial election are fully as great as they were this time four years ago. The Republican party has been too May I ask why not? I heard from long in power, and it is of the utthe country that there should be a change of party in power.

follies and mistakes of the Demo cratic leaders have kept the Repub ican party in power for at least the last twelve or fifteen years longer than it otherwise would have been

Where Home Sweet Home Was Written New York Sun

The story often told and repeated by the Hon. Leigh Robinson in his song "Sweet Home" was written on the steps of a nobleman's house in London is not a correct one. In the outumn of 1846 John Howard Payne was my daily companion in Paris he told me much of his saw a smail window near the root at which he pointed with his fir ger. On my replying that I did, he season of dejection and almost despair, with only a brick wall separating him from the palaces, and that small window between him and the happy, thoughtless, crowds song, "Mid pleasures and palaces," came to his mind as naturally unconclously as a sigh, and that then and there he wrote the words which he afterward introduced into "Clari, or the Maid of Milan."

WM. T. DAVIS, Plymoth, Mass. THE New York Herald, in speak-

ng of the trade dollar, says: "This robbery of the poor is go-Gabriel began to think to himself | done in regard to it-refuse to ac-> dances around the house and helps her mother a little at housework?-

of Senators are no better off than sons of ploughmen in this country, unless each inherits the brains and character of their respective ances.

The was pale with passion now, and his words were directed, not to news to the emperor of what had happened, and told Gabriel to put the faithless Inez, cowering inside the faithless Inez, cowering the faithless "Well, she told me once, when I nearly as strong as ever. W. H. WELLER,